QUALITY OF LIFE

Quality of one's life cannot be defined by a single thing; rather, it is a collective of many components which influence who you are as a person. The quality of life of a community can be gauged by the same standards ... it isn't just a restaurant or a park or school system, but rather a cumulative of many aspects which define the standards of living in a community. Lima/Allen

County has a remarkable representation of businesses, organizations, parks, arts, churches and recreational amenities all working together, strengthening the community, to create a quality of living reflective of big city culture with small town values. To hear from our members just how vibrant the Quality of Life found here in Lima/Allen County is, visit www.WeAreLimaAllenCounty.com.

We have CORN.

The Allen County Fairgrounds has the capacity to accommodate large events, both indoor and out.

Contrary to what you may be thinking right now, this is not an ad about corn. While we all understand the economic stability agriculture brings to Allen County, many don't realize all that it takes to make our community prosper. Many rural communities are dying all across America, but many have chosen to thrive.

To say that we're against economic stagnation is an understatement, to say the least. The notion that a small, rural marketplace cannot thrive regardless of what economic period it is thrust into is, in our estimation, bunk.

Who are we? We are three entities working together for one common goal: the prosperity of Allen County, Ohio. We are here every day, warring against economic decline by bringing events, meetings and conferences comprised of people who are thrilled to spend their money right here in Allen County.

Granted, we don't have some of the legendary attractions other communities have been blessed with for decades. But what we do have is the one thing others covet. It is that which constantly draws throngs of people to Allen County; the stuff that cannot be clearly defined—the intangible. What is it?

It is everything.

It is us.

We Have It!

The local market is doing great.

We are seeing houses selling faster and prices are increasing. With the reduction in inventory builders are building again. Interest rates are still great.

Now is the time to buy, build, or trade up!

OHIO NORTHERN UNIVERSITY

2011 ONU graduate Jameson "Jamie" Raines, process engineer, Procter & Gamble

The Lima/Allen County educational opportunities are unparalleled in our region and post-secondary opportunities are unmatched. With five colleges and universities, 12 districts and 56 trade, public, private and parochial schools in our backyard, we are creating a strong workforce and developing the future leaders of our community.

Ohio Northern University

"I'm a problem solver working on different projects in the detergent-making department; it never gets boring," said Jameson "Jamie" Raines, a process engineer at Procter & Gamble in Lima, Ohio, and a 2011 graduate of Ohio Northern University's mechanical engineering program.

He explained, "This can range from performing high-level engineering design to picking up a wrench and getting dirty. Engineers take the ideas of scientists and designers and turn them into reality while working within real-world constraints like how much will it cost or how long will it take."

While at Ohio Northern, he participated in a co-op program, working for Procter & Gamble. "This allowed me to get valuable work experience during school and ultimately led to me getting my job."

But that was just part of his education. "While at ONU, I traveled to China and Spain with the marching band. I also worked at a medical clinic in Kenya as part of my senior design project." Now he uses those experiences as a process engineer, working for an international company, Procter & Gamble, close to home.

The Ohio State University at Lima

Ohio State's Fisher College of Business undergraduate program is ranked 8th among public universities by U.S. News and World Report 2013 and that expertise is available to students at Ohio State Lima. Josh Kroehler was able to work toward his bachelor's degree in business with the added benefits of lower tuition and smaller classes at Ohio State Lima. His experience as the president of the campus Business Club advanced his understanding of how to manage and lead people and led to several internship opportunities, including time at the Husky Lima Refinery.

"My internships were amazing experiences that I have learned so much from and I firmly believe that without Ohio State I would not have had those opportunities," he said.

Bluffton University

John DeHaven was hesitant about going back to school. He felt he needed more training in finance for his job as president of the family business, DeHaven Home & Garden Centers Inc. But it had been about 15 years since his 1993 graduation from Bluffton with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

In its MBA program, however, "Bluffton gave me the ability to take two classes and get credit for them" while deciding if he wanted to pursue the degree, he said. Those classes — in conflict resolution and workplace diversity — "got my feet wet," added DeHaven, who went on to earn his MBA in 2011.

The Bluffton program provided all the financial, management and human resources classes he needed, taught by faculty who "are just outstanding," he said. "If you're a small business person, Bluffton is the MBA program for you. Period."

AGRICULTURE

The business of agriculture has certainly seen significant changes over the years, with local farmers leading the charge. It is these leaders who helped to innovate, advance and influence what the agricultural community looks like today.

New in 2013, the Lima/Allen County Chamber of Commerce's Agri-Business committee implemented a Hall of Fame award program honoring and recognizing the work and dedication to agriculture in Allen County. The two award winners have spent a lifetime literally shaping the landscape of agriculture in this region.

J. Edgar Begg lived in Allen County for 67 years. He was a livestock and grain farmer, raising cattle, hogs, corn, soybeans, oats, wheat and hay, and during that time, he was instrumental in shaping several organizations practicing today. Helping to found the Allen Soil and Water Conservation District, he advocated for conservation improvements and worked hand-in-hand with farmers and the County Conservationist actually laying out and installing conservation practices. Begg was a founding member of the Progressive Farmers, a lifetime member of the Lima Farmers Club, board member and superintendent of Farm Products for the Mid-Winter Fair, and master/chairman and Representative to the Ohio State Grange for Pleasant Grange.

Begg was at the forefront of hybrid corn production as a grower for Ohio Certified Seeds and as a cooperator with The Ohio State University Extension in early use of soil tests for the recommendations for commercial fertilizer application and pesticide use. Begg also was eager to mechanize operations ... moving from literal horse-power to tractors with "horse power!" Being a forward thinker, he started automating his farm with his homemade electric-powered self-unloading wagon, rather than using the traditional hooked fork to unload ear corn. This innovation landed him on the cover of Successful Farmers magazine. As a testament to providing for his community, he also started a local cooperative purchasing group to buy fuel and supplies by the barrel, ton or truckload at an economy price then sharing the savings with his neighbors in the group.

J. Edgar Begg was an innovator. He helped to lay the groundwork to make agriculture the largest industry within Allen County.

Calvin Leimbach came to Allen County as a Vocational Agriculture teacher in 1947. In 1951 he was serving the area as the Allen County 4-H Agent and later The Ohio State Extension Service Agriculture Agent. In an article celebrating his career,

The Lima News declared him as "doctor to area gardens ... counsel to local environmentalists ... and general trouble-shooter for area farmers." Beginning his farming career in a post WWII economy, he saw livestock production represent 70 percent of farm income and now at the end of his career he has seen that statistic flip flop. He has worked with farmers to bring in university specialists, he has coordinated field test plots, and guided livestock producers through various practices. But his success was largely due to the amazing amount of networking and partnering he did to bring people together.

Leimbach has served in a number of organizations and associations – of those, locally, he was a board member for the Allen Soil and Water Conservation District, the Lima/Allen County Chamber Agriculture Committee, helped to found the Lima Farmers Club, Allen County Ag Society – Hall of Fame Honoree, and Allen County Farm Bureau. He also served and was influential in a state and national capacity. Leimbach's counsel was trusted and regarded and believed to have aided the success of each and every one of the farmers he assisted.

Notable Statistics:

- Harvested 58,200 acres of corn
(158.2 bushels an acre)
- Ranked 26th in Ohio for corn production
- 83,100 acres harvested of soybeans
(50.3 bushels an acre)
- Ranked 24th in the state of Ohio for soybean production
- Allen County is home to 70,000 pigs which makes them 6th in Ohio
- Average cash farm receipts were $123,331
- Home to 946 farms that average 198 acres in size
- Total amount of land in farms in Allen County is 187,238 acres.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY

Entrepreneurism – The “NEW Kids” on the Block

At the heart of all business is an entrepreneur ... someone who took a leap and jumped headfirst into an uncertain future. Without these risk-takers, our business landscape would look drastically different. With little in their pockets, a passion for their craft and the support of family, friends and a business community, Michelle Sterling, Marc Bowker and Kent Fultz ventured out on their own and followed their entrepreneurial dreams.

Michelle Sterling – SignPro Imaging

“We’re more than just signs, we’re your business marketing partner.”

“I can honestly say I’ve always wanted to own my own business.”

Michelle graduated from Ohio Northern University with a BFA in graphic design and a BSBA in marketing, excited to tackle the challenge of setting up her own business. Little did she know her dream of business ownership would be closer than she thought. After graduation, she started working for Lima Communications – now Your Hometown Lima Stations – for the SignPro division of their company. Lima Communications started this division to provide their clients with multiple advertising options, creating a one-stop shop for their marketing needs. Michelle was leading this charge when the company offered her a deal of a lifetime. Purchase SignPro Imaging. Go into business for herself. At age 21, become an entrepreneur.

With the help, support and a little collateral from her family, Michelle purchased the business in 1999 and hit the ground running, and she’s been running ever since. In 2005 SignPro Imaging underwent a major expansion, increasing their space and upgrading equipment allowing the company to stay ahead of the competition with enhanced technologies. With the addition of new staff and her growing client base, Michelle took another leap and purchased a new building, relocating her business to its current location on Brower Road. During all of this transition the company expanded its reach outside of signage. Michelle’s original plan was to own a marketing agency and now she has been able to branch out into additional product lines affording her the opportunity to sit with a new client, assess their marketing needs and help them build a plan incorporating the skills and services she is now able to provide. From vehicle wraps and store front signage to business cards and letterhead, Michelle has grown her business into that one-stop shop the original owners set out to create. Her business partnerships have enabled her to connect her clients, build relationships and set a strong foundation for her career.

“I’m a lifer. I grew up in Delphos, went to college in Ada and since my family is so close, I wanted to stay in Lima after graduation. As a single woman, this community affords me the opportunity to own my home, as well as my business and completely support myself. Because of this, I’m able to give back to the community which has given me so much.” Over the past three years, SignPro Imaging has donated over $25,000 in products and services, as well as several thousand dollars of in-kind donations to local schools, churches, sports leagues and civic organizations.

Marc Bowker - Alter Ego Comics

"In a world where superheroes have alter egos, the name seemed to fit perfectly. It also put us at the beginning of alphabetical listings!"

Marc started reading comics at age 10, "the 80s was the greatest decade with all of the cartoons, tv shows and movies ... I grew up with these characters and I guess I never grew out of it."

Living in Detroit with his wife – who grew up in Allen County – they were living a commuter lifestyle and were ready for a change. Visiting with her family, it didn't take long for the decision to be made. They moved to Allen County where they became ingrained in the community. Marc was working in the communications field and his wife was (and still is) teaching in the Shawnee school district.

Owning his own business was never far from his mind, even though he was already working a full-time job. In 2003, Marc launched an online retail site, www.alteregocomics.com, and thus begins his entrepreneurial story. He felt he could provide better service and products than that of the retailers he was utilizing. "I honestly started my business out of frustration with the lack of options available to consumers." The website specialized in high-end action figures and collectibles. Storing boxes of figurines and collectibles in his home office, Marc would get home from his day job and pack and fill shipping orders for another 20-30 hours a week. After a little over a year of filling orders and working this part-time business, he found his hobby was fiscally sound and could actually become a career.

Taking a huge leap of faith – after running out of storage space in his home office – Marc opened his retail store in 2005, offering new comic books, graphic novels, non-electronic games and movie/tv collectibles. "I felt we needed to have a physical presence and the downtown area was where I wanted to be." Locating his business beside established, well-known, niche businesses in the downtown area, Marc grew his client base and quickly found himself in a familiar situation – needing more space!

"There is something special about being downtown." And with that thought, in 2009, he purchased a building on Main Street and couldn't be happier in his location ... well other than he's still running out of space! Before the end of 2013 Marc will be renovating the interior of his building to accommodate the rapidly growing business. The retail store allows him to host events like "Free Comic Book Day" which hosts over 1,300 visitors, and gaming days, and he partners with neighbor businesses for community events like the Downtown Lima Chalk Walk and more. "I'm not a traditional comic book store." He offers events, programs and products thoughtfully. He thinks of his community and audience when running his business. Once his expansion is complete he'll have a reading lounge, gaming areas, boutique-style items and hopefully will be hosting monthly community events.

What was once a passion as a child, now has Marc and Alter Ego Comics selling to a global marketplace. His hobby, his dream – turned into an international business.

Kent Fultz - Crankers Cycling

"If you know something is right, just follow it."

Business ownership is in Kent's blood ... his dad, brothers, fiancée and now his son are all working in family owned and managed businesses. Starting his career in construction, Kent built his own construction company and before he knew it, instead of running the business, the business was running him. Years of strenuous work was taking its toll on his body and he was getting to the point where he was forcing himself into the office each day. After shoulder surgery that put him out of commission for a year he decided to re-evaluate his career.

A lifelong cyclist, Kent started working, for free, in a bike shop in a neighboring community. He helped fix bikes, learned about the industry and the business of cycling and, all the while, was praying for a sign, some guidance. He had purchased a piece of property, sentimental to his family. While cleaning up a small shop on the property he did it. He found his sign. Literally! After pulling some paneling from a wall he found a sign that read "Lima Cycle Co." Kent took it home and put in the corner of his living room and forgot about it. It wasn't until after a full year he caught a glimpse of it and saw it in a whole new light. HIS SIGN!

"Everything started to fall into place from the very beginning! While traveling we came across a business closing its doors so I was able to purchase thousands of dollars of merchandise for a fraction of the cost. Building and business supplies were falling in my lap. It was as if this was what I was supposed to be doing all along." Starting his business in a small rental shop, Crankers Cycling quickly outgrew the space within the first season. He purchased his current location and moved in, in 2012. That same year, "I was approached by another bike shop owner who was ready to leave this business, so now I have a second location!"

"You can put the pencil to the paper and work hard at your business, but when it comes down to it, some things were just meant to be."

Now after 4+ years Crankers Cycling is still growing and expanding and Kent runs the business by the mantra "give what's been given to me." Through community outreach and rider education he is able to share his passion and his love for this sport with others. Kent is a part of the Roadrunners cycling club, he helps the City of Lima coordinate the Freedom Fun Ride, is a mentor with the "Positive Addiction" program at St. Charles School which teaches 8th grade students about positive addictions/behaviors, and is also part of the Iron Rider program through the Lima Family YMCA which teaches kids from the Juvenile Detention Center about riding, positive behaviors and offers guidance to those enrolled and their families involved. He is working on offering Mechanic Classes at his business to teach riders how to maintain their bicycles. Part of the service he provides, setting him apart from competition, is providing fittings for every new bicycle sold. He wants to be sure the rider has the appropriate bicycle, it fits them properly and they are able to ride safely.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The economic development of our community is a collaborative effort among private and public partners, city and county government, community organizations, business leaders and Lima/Allen County citizens. Everyone has a stake in enhancing our community's economic vitality.

Lima/Allen County has always been known as a region that builds and creates. From engines to soap, mashed potatoes to ethanol or coated steel to gasoline, these and a myriad of other commodities can be traced back to our region. Within those industries, the technologies involved and processes of creation have changed markedly over the years. We have been able to entice, recruit and retain a strong business community for a variety of reasons.

Some may ask, "Why Lima?" We have the talent, the resources and the capabilities to influence global markets, drive local commerce and develop cutting edge technologies. We say "Why NOT Lima?"

New CSX Intermodal Terminal – part of the National Rail Gateway connecting Midwest markets with East Coast seaports

Lima is within 600 miles of 61% of the nation's population.

Excellent location with access to Interstates 75, 70 and I-80/90.

Strength in People

"The workforce we are able to draw upon is a fantastic, hard-working group of people, and that's reflective of the Allen County community."

~Mike Harper, VP of Finance & CFO at Rudolph Foods

When choosing to locate a business in a new community, several factors impact the final decision. One of those factors is talent. One of the greatest assets we, as a community, can offer is human capital. To ensure we are developing individuals' skill sets to fill these highly technological positions now available in our community, local businesses and educational institutions are partnering to create curriculum designed to provide training, education and certifications necessary.

"... it's a great opportunity to see how students perform in real world situations and if available we can offer them positions at our company."

~Steve Hatkevich, Director of R&D at American Trim

Mike Felix, Plant Manager at Ford Lima Engine Plant states, "How the community collaboratively works with industries here really, to me, is a model for other communities around the country. Over 50 years ago, the company made a decision to put a plant in Lima because of the workforce and culture that the community has and continues on and lives and breathes today."

Strength in Technology

Lima/Allen County is a leader in the development of new products and technologies. With several manufacturing companies not only doing business locally or nationally, but they have grown to have a global impact; they have put our community on the map as a leader in technological advancements.

"We are doing some things with friction welding that no one else in the world is doing ... we do things in our business, develop processes and procedures that don't exist anywhere else. We are very blessed to draw people from our area for many years, local talent that we need to produce products that have and to develop the technologies used to develop those products." ~Keith Deters, Plant Manager, General Dynamics Land Systems.

GENERAL DYNAMICS
Land Systems

"We have a great partnership with Rhodes State College and are working with them to develop new and novel technologies. Some of these technologies you can only actually see in existence here in Lima, Ohio."

~Steve Hatkevich, Director of R&D at American Trim

In Lima/Allen County, you will find leading global companies, cutting edge innovation and a proven 21st century workforce.

Strength in Location

Our community is strategically located in West Central Ohio where US-30 and I-75 meet, about halfway between Dayton and Toledo, making Lima/Allen County central for shipping to a number of major markets. Lima is a Midwestern rail hub served by lines traveling north, south, east and west.

Because of our strategic location, Procter & Gamble added a distribution center here, their largest in North America.

"Lima certainly offers a great geography. We can get to transportation quite easily whether using the roads or rail systems and that's important because we are a large site and we ship to the upper two-thirds of the U.S., so getting our products out is very important." ~Grace Allen, Plant Manager at Procter & Gamble.

Strength in Resources

"Allen County is a 10-county regional hub for work, healthcare, retail and education. Employers are drawn to our community because of what we have to offer." ~Jeff Sprague, President & CEO Allen Economic Development Group.

Allen County's access to resources and ease of collaboration is enticing to businesses looking to locate into our region. The reservoirs in our community supply 14.5 billion gallons of water to our area, meaning we have a very reliable and stable water supply for consumers to tap into. Average usage equals approximately 22-25 million gallons per day, however with our reservoirs we are able to supply up to 40 million gallons per day.

"One of the deciding factors of coming to Lima, for us, was having a shovel ready industrial park." ~Don Klausing, President of Kettle Creations. Kettle Creations had access to a 100-acre industrial park which already supplies water, power, sewage, gas and utilities, enabling them to move in and hit the ground running.

Strong community partnerships and collaborations are crucial when recruiting new businesses to locate in the community. Grace Allen, Plant Manager at Procter & Gamble shares P&G's experience working collaboratively with the community to construct their largest distribution center in North America. "What you need when you are growing like we've done over the years was to have the right infrastructure. We were able to work with community officials to make sure roadways were in the right places, utilities were coming in and we also partnered with officials to make sure business incentives and grants were in place as is for those bringing jobs to a community."

Ease of access, shovel-ready parks, partnership and collaboration with the community all influence business and the Allen County community's strength in the resources available boosts our region's development appeal.

Ohio's first Balloon Osseoplasty, a minimally invasive procedure designed to relieve back pain, was performed at Lima Memorial in April 2013. "The procedure was successful and the patient reported immediate pain relief," said G. Brooks Brennan, M.D.

Lima Memorial is the first hospital in the region and third in the state of Ohio to offer STAR certified oncology rehabilitation services. "Cancer treatment takes a toll on patients both mentally and physically," said Nora Fought, Oncology Supervisor. "The STAR program provides care to improve the quality of life for cancer survivors and their families." ### St. Rita's Medical Center

Advancements in technology and cutting edge procedures have St. Rita's Medical Center celebrating its 1,000th Robotic Surgery Case. The first Robot was purchased late in 2010 and has grown the program 168 percent over the past year and tenfold since 2010. Now with two daVinci Robots, the program keeps growing.

Dr. Craig Nicholson, Director of Robotic and Minimally Invasive Surgery at St. Rita's, sees the robotic technology as a major investment, only improving over time, as technology advances and more doctors are properly trained.

"For some things we are so far ahead of the curve," Nicholson explained. "Particularly general surgery. We've been doing it for little over a year now. General surgery focuses on abdominal organs including the esophagus, stomach, bowel ducts and gallbladder."

In addition to growing the program, Nicholson hopes to turn St. Rita's into a training ground for robotic surgery advancements.

St. Rita's also offers Robotic surgery in Gynecology, Urology and Cardiothoracic. Learn more by visiting www.stritas.org.

ABOUT THE CHAMBER

Chamber - Leading Businesses. Leading Communities™

Chamber - Leading Businesses. Leading Communities™

Founded in 1887, the Lima/Allen County Chamber of Commerce is the community's leading advocate and champion for business. Its primary objective is to create a climate of growth and success in our community.

The Lima/Allen County Chamber of Commerce provides leadership and business-building initiatives focusing on the critical priorities of the community. Leveraging the support, talent, and resources of our members, we are one of the leading organizations helping to improve the economic vitality and quality of life for the region.

As an advocate for businesses and our communities, we are living and breathing "Real American Strength" in our everyday programs, efforts, and initiatives. We encourage our local businesses and community members to evaluate how they demonstrate "Real American Strength" in their everyday activities.

Community and economic development are essential for a growing community. The Chamber has taken under its umbrella, the Common Threads "Allen 2020" project. Through this effort, 10 task force teams organized and developed a community vision focusing on the planned growth of the Lima/Allen County community. These efforts have now developed into a partnership with the Regional Planning Commission and is now called the Sustainable Communities Initiative.

The Chamber has continually focused our efforts on identifying and advancing opportunities to support economic development of small business. In collaboration with Diversified Management and the Small Business Development Center the Chamber formed the Walter C. Potts Entrepreneurial Center. The purpose of the Center is to provide economic stability and to enhance the community's quality of life by encouraging small and minority business to stay, invest and participate in the Lima/Allen County community.

Working together through the Lima Area Chamber Foundation, the Chamber, Allen Economic Development Group, Lima/Allen County Convention & Visitors Bureau, Downtown Lima, Inc., Allen Lima Leadership, Walter C. Potts Entrepreneurial Center and the Veterans Memorial Civic and Convention Center were able to rehabilitate a historic building in downtown Lima, to form the Center for Business Services. The selection and renovation of the historic Schnorf-Wagner Building was a $2.4 million investment in the redevelopment of the downtown business district. The Center for Business Services created a unique ballroom to accent the Veterans Memorial Civic and Convention Center as well as become a catalyst for economic development.

Enhancing education is a priority of the Lima/Allen County community. Several organizations have joined efforts with the Chamber to work with city and county schools to increase the number of students and adults striving to achieve a post secondary education. The Chamber and United Way of Greater Lima have partnered to identify social and educational gap areas – addressing those outside influences preventing students from obtaining a post secondary education. It is our goal to overcome those hindrances and improve the quality of the workforce in Allen County and surrounding region.

Building relationships and retaining talent among the young professionals within the greater Lima area continues to be an optimist goal of the Chamber. Today, the Lima Young Professionals organization is making a difference and getting involved in several events, service and civic organizations, as well as providing outlets in which to impact the sustainability of the Allen County community. New to the program the Lima YP has developed an Executive YP branch which is a leadership intensive arm offering mentorship, skills building, and community service. The Lima YP has also stepped up and is taking a stand on behalf of the community by forming the "I Love Lima" movement. The I Love Lima movement was formed to help combat negativity and help promote our community... not only to visitors but also to our own residents. The Lima YP has been nominated for The Good Neighbor Award for their work with the I Love Lima movement.

As a champion for the Lima/Allen County community, we have partnered with the Allen Economic Development Group and the Lima/Allen County Convention and Visitors Bureau to develop a unique community marketing tool. www.WeAreLimaAllenCounty.com has been developed to showcase the strength of businesses, quality of life, and abundant resources our region offers to residents, visitors, and businesses. The website serves to highlight the "Faces and Places" of Lima/Allen County.

We are proud that the Chamber, through our many partnerships, has become one of the leading organizations helping to improve the economic vitality and quality of life for everyone in the Lima/Allen County Area.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT WITH ECONOMIC IMPACT PROGRAMS

The Chamber of Commerce often partners with other local community and business-based organizations to work on initiatives that are important to the area. A few of these efforts are highlighted below.

Faces & Places

As a champion for the Lima/Allen County community, the Chamber has partnered with the Allen Economic Development Group and the Lima/Allen County Convention and Visitors Bureau to develop a unique community marketing tool. www.WeAreLimaAllenCounty.com has been developed to showcase the strength of businesses, quality of life, and abundant resources our region offers to residents, visitors, and businesses. The website serves to highlight the "Faces and Places" of Lima/Allen County.

WE Connect

Is a collaborative effort under the Lima Area Chamber Foundation with the Lima/Allen County Chamber of Commerce and the Allen Economic Development Group, serving as a catalyst for working together, across sectors and along the educational continuum. This program will work to drive better results in education and workforce development so every individual can be prepared to enter the workforce. WE Connect brings also brings together the STRIVE Initiative – working towards developing careers in manufacturing and the skilled trades, as well as the College Access program – preparing students for their next educational step outside of high school, increasing access to post-secondary education, aiding in ACT Prep, and awarding scholarships to eligible students.

Multiple Building Departments

The Lima Chamber facilitated the continuation of having one building department in the county. The Chamber worked with the Townships and the City of Lima along with area member contractors to address issues and concerns and to develop a more functional building department within the City of Lima. The Allen County Building Advisory Committee was formed with representatives of the townships, commissioners, businessmen, design/engineers and area contractors with the following mission to provide oversight and input on how the community views the Building Department's customer service and share dialogue on continued improvements on codes and standards.

Community Branding Initiative

The Chamber of Commerce worked side-by-side with several organizations, business leaders and City Officials, along with North Star Destinations to develop a cohesive, community brand. The branding effort will in turn help to unify our region and make Lima/Allen County a sought-after destination for work and play. The theme of Real American Strength was developed after countless hours, meetings, surveys, and community polls. This theme notes that we are more than a city or county, we are a place that is more than the simple sum of all its' people and places. It personifies our Midwestern work ethic and values as well as our productivity, culture and quality of life. The community brand is now visible throughout the county on billboards, buses and in local businesses as many have pledged to adopt the brand and incorporate it into their existing marketing materials. With the Allen County Visionaries support we have been able hired a Brand Manager to further the usage of the brand

Sustainable Communities Initiative

The Chamber is an active participant in the Allen County Sustainable Communities Initiative which mission is to utilize available resources in an efficient way to improve the quality of life for residents of Allen County through comprehensive community collaboration. The vision for this initiative is to create a sustainable environment that promotes and supports the health and well-being of the community through continuing awareness, collaborative alignment, and comprehensive action. Partnering with the Regional Planning Commission, the initiative has utilized the Allen County 2020 community vision goals to establish a sustainability website that will have website indicators reflecting the progress of our community toward achieving the goals for each of the sustainability areas.

Legislative Forums, Debates and Actions

The mission is to develop an awareness and understanding of emerging local, state and federal issues that could cause a change in the business/quality of life climate; develop a position to inform members and the community; and, when advisable, develop a strategy to resolve the issue. Lobbied against decreasing the Bureau of Workers Compensation Group rating discount, against Minimum Wage increases, Card Check, Cap & Trade, discussed Allen County Sales Tax, Issue 2, and other legislation impacting business. Lobbied for the High Speed Rail Study and continued to support the Downtown Lima Corridor Project. Organized targeted legislative topic forums, receptions, debates and breakfasts. Annually attend legislative meetings with state legislative representatives at the Ohio Capital to discuss significant Lima/Allen County issues. Provide legislative updates twice a month in the legislative Advocacy e-report, periodically for the Wake, Rattle and Roll event and the Chamber's monthly news conference.

Walter C. Potts Entrepreneur Center

The Chamber focuses on identifying and advancing opportunities to support economic development of small and minority business. As a part of this focus there became a need for collaboration with Rhodes State College Small Business Development Center, Diversified Management, the City of Lima, Allen County Commissioners, AEDG, educational institutions and business leaders, to develop the Walter C. Potts Entrepreneur Center. The Center's mission is to provide education necessary to support and sustain a small and/or minority business; enabling the community to create jobs, provide economic stability and enhance quality of life by encouraging small and minority business to stay, invest, and participate in the Lima/Allen County community. Recently a grant was secured with the Minority Business Assistant Center through the Akron Urban League to provide additional services to minority and women owned businesses

Center for Business Services

One of the Chamber's primary goals was to secure a facility, in collaboration with the Allen Economic Development Group, Convention and Visitors' Bureau, Downtown Lima, Inc and Allen Lima Leadership which would fully meet the current and future needs of each organization. After seeking input of all partners, the Chamber Foundation purchased the historic Schnorf and Wagner buildings adjacent/connected to the Veterans' Memorial Civic and Convention Center. The collective agencies believed it best suited the various organizations to remain under one roof. This arrangement benefits all the organizations and will create a "one stop shop" Center for Business Services for the community.

Lima Auto Task Force

Over three years ago, Mayor David Berger brought together government, business, labor and others to form the Lima Auto Task Force. The Chamber President has been an active participant in the meetings and events of the organization. The Task Force has led many initiatives benefiting the auto-related companies in the region. The Task Force was called out in the October 2009 Report of the "Joint Select Committee on the Impact of the Changing Automobile Industry in Ohio" as a model for other communities to follow.

Joint Systems Manufacturing Center

Task Force L.I.M.A. was reconstituted by Mayor David Berger in March of 2011 in response to a potential three year gap in production of the Abrams main battle tank as well as the threatened cancellation of the Expeditionary Fighting Vehicle (EFV) program at the JSMC. The Task Force is a coalition of local elected officials, economic development and business associations including the Chamber, labor organizations, media, and other community leadership, which have assembled in order to communicate with state and federal officials about the strategic importance of the JSMC, its unique and essential manufacturing capabilities, and its portfolio of world class armored vehicles and products.

458 Regional Postal Task Force

The Lima Mail Processing Center processed over 386 million pieces of mail in 2009, ranking #1 out of the 268 centers operated by the U.S. Post Office. In 2009 our community was faced with the possibility of this processing center being closed, eliminating over 100 jobs in our community, delaying mail service and making it more costly for local businesses utilizing postal services. In an effort to preserve Lima's processing center, the Chamber along with several other business leaders, government officials and private citizens formed a task force to conduct a study highlighting the detrimental effects closing this facility would have on our community as well as the surrounding 8 county area utilizing the processing center. Ultimately the U.S. Postal Service consolidated the Lima Mail Processing Center with the Toledo center and the Lima center will be closed in 2010.

Downtown Lima Corridor Project

The Chamber is partnering with the City of Lima and Downtown Lima Inc. to beautify the entrance corridors to our city. Local government and businesses recognizes the importance of improving "first impressions" of the city and promoting selected land uses that enhance the visual appeal of sights and designations along the most heavily traveled routes into the city. The Chamber has invested $5,000 in support of this valuable Downtown Lima Corridor Project.

LCI Task Force

The Lima Correctional Institute's Task Force was developed through a partnership between the Chamber, the City of Lima, Allen County Commissioners, Allen Economic Development Group and other state elected offices, union representatives and local business leaders. The Task Force worked collaboratively with the State of Ohio, state legislators and the Department of Corrections to develop a feasibility study focused on the impact of re-using or re-opening LCI. The recommendation to the Governor was to recognize the economic impact the facility had on the community upon its closing. LCI will in turn become one of the first facilities to re-open when the need arises to expand upon existing dormitory style prison facilities within the region.

Common Threads - Allen 2020

The Chamber has partnered with the Common Threads Community Development Team to work toward building a focused community vision for Lima/ Allen County. Through this collaboration, 10 taskforce teams were organized and over five years, a community vision was created. This effort was citizen-driven and then present to local officials, business owners and community.

The following listed suggestions are currently being addressed/implemented:

- To practice collaboration, partnership and inclusion
- Increase communication among public, private and civic groups and citizens

- Enhance the use of technology among government groups and also among community sectors
- Eliminate duplicate agencies by establishing county consortiums
- Provide public education and awareness opportunities to engage citizens and foster informed decision-making
- An additional detailed community vision report has been developed and is being used as an outline to carry-out the vision of the Lima/Allen County community.

Base Realignment and Closure [BRAC]

In an effort to reduce cost and the duplication of military facilities, the federal government deploys a Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) review every few years which reviews every military installation in the U.S. for potential closure or consolidation. Because the military facility in Lima was always known as the Lima Army Tank Plant there were those in Washington D. C. who felt the facility provided only one product to the military and therefore had outlived its usefulness. In order to address this issue, our community formed Task Force L.I.M.A. (Linked in Mutual Alliance) to act as the advocate for the long-term future of the Lima government owned facility. The Task Force led a charge to change the name of the facility from the "Lima Army Tank Plant" to the "Joint Systems Manufacturing Center" which better reflects the "jointness" of the services the plant provides not just to the U. S. Army, but also to other branches of the service. It was imperative to the community that we not only retain the current 700+ jobs at the plant, but also to facilitate the creation of more jobs. The actions of the Task Force resulted in the plant remaining open and creating 300 – 500 new jobs at the facility. Our actions also resulted in the construction of the new $11.3 million administration building on the site.
